Waqf-e-Nau Scheme

On November 28, 2021, Hazrat Khalifatul Masih V (aba) held a meeting with student members of Lajnah Imaillah Germany. One member asked what should be done if the parents do not agree on whether to dedicate the lives of their children as part of the Waqf-e-nau scheme. Huzur (aba) replied, "It is essential that both parents are in full agreement before they dedicate their child for the Waqf-e-Nau scheme. Otherwise, it will create conflict in the home and that will have a negative impact on the upbringing of the children. If only the mother or the father has a strong desire to dedicate their child, then they should carry out their upbringing in such a way that when the child grows older he or she decides themselves to dedicate his or her life for the service of the faith. Remember, that to merely attain the title of Waqf-e-Nau and say that you have dedicated the child's life as part of Waqf-e-Nau is of no benefit if the child does not pay attention to his studies and his prayers and does not focus on worshipping and seeking religious knowledge but instead spends his time loitering outside and makes friends with such

The Prophet (ﷺ) stated, "O son of Adam! If you give your surplus it is better for you, and if you keep it, it is worse for you, but there is no harm with what is sufficient. And begin (the giving) with your dependents, and the upper hand (giving) is better than the lower hand (receiving)."

sufferings endured by our lord and master the Holy Prophet Muhammad (sa) during his times of trial. At one such time, he prayed, "My Lord! I complain to you of my weakness and confess my helplessness at your threshold. My humble state is known to You. I am ready to bear every hardship until You are pleased with me, and I have no strength other than You." (The Green Announcement, p. 15)
